

Speak Up. End Hunger.

“The Spirit of the Lord is upon me because he has anointed me to preach good news to the poor.”

Luke 4:18

Celia Escudero Espadas

Jesus was an advocate.

So were the Old Testament prophets.

They spoke out on behalf of hungry and poor people. They held their leaders accountable to care for God’s most vulnerable children.

God still uses advocates—even today. God’s grace in Jesus Christ moves us to help our neighbors, whether they live in the next house, the next state, or the next continent. Each of us can be an advocate to end hunger in the United States and worldwide.

Speak up and help end hunger. By making your voice heard in Congress, you can help make our nation’s laws more fair and compassionate to people in need. A simple act like writing a personal letter or email is all it takes.

One person taking action makes a difference. Many people taking action can create lasting change.

That’s why each year Bread for the World invites churches to take up a nationwide Offering of Letters to Congress on an issue that is important to hungry and poor people.

It’s not difficult.

It doesn’t take much time.

It just takes the will to act.

Nobody Should Go to Bed Hungry.

Who

Bread for the World is a collective Christian voice urging our nation's decision makers to end hunger at home and abroad. By changing policies, programs, and conditions that allow hunger and poverty to persist, we provide help and opportunity far beyond the communities where we live.

“They will hunger no more, and thirst no more ... and God will wipe away every tear from their eyes.”

Revelations 7:16a-17b

What

Bread for the World has a remarkable record of success in Congress. Year after year, Bread members have won far-reaching changes for hungry and poor people. The U.S. government has doubled funding for effective programs that help developing countries in Africa and other poor parts of the world—this would not have happened without the persistent advocacy of Bread for the World members. Bread for the World has also helped to strengthen U.S. national nutrition programs, assisting millions of the families in this country who struggle to feed their children.
