

Tennessee

A Hunger and Poverty Snapshot

Between 2019-2021:

- Food insecurity in Tennessee averaged 11.20%.<sup>1</sup>
- Tennessee's food insecurity rate was 7% higher than the national average of 10.4%.<sup>2</sup>
- The official poverty rate (which does not account for income from safety-net and tax-support programs such as SNAP, EITC, and others) in the state averaged 12.2%.<sup>3</sup>
- But using the Supplemental Poverty Measure (which does include safety-net and tax-support income), the poverty rate falls to 9.1%.<sup>4</sup> In other words, these programs reduced the poverty rate in Tennessee by 25% and the number of people living in poverty by 214,000.<sup>5</sup>
- SNAP, alone, lifted 167,000 people above the poverty line in Tennessee, including 68,000 children, per year between 2013 and 2017, on average.<sup>6</sup>

Why Bread for the World is Focused on the Farm Bill

The Farm bill is scheduled to be reauthorized in 2023. No legislation has more impact than a farm bill on the US food system and the nation's ability to provide healthy food at affordable prices to everyone.

Bread for the World's farm bill priorities include a focus on nutrition, equity, and sustainability. We believe Tennessee has a lot to gain from a farm bill legislated with these priorities in mind.

Nutrition	Equity	Sustainability
<ul> <li>Bread for the World supports strengthening SNAP in Tennessee.</li> <li>Not only is SNAP the flagship food security and nutrition program, it is indispensable to better health outcomes and economic prosperity.</li> <li>In 2021, 13% of Tennessee residents were helped by SNAP.<sup>11</sup></li> <li>Roughly 336,000workers in Tennessee live in households that participated in SNAP in 2021.<sup>12</sup></li> <li>SNAP helps 1 in 9 workers in Tennessee put food on the table.<sup>13</sup></li> <li>71% of SNAP participants were in families with children, and 35% in families with members who are older adults or are disabled.<sup>14</sup> 90% of all SNAP-eligible</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Bread for the World supports farm policies that promote a more equitable food system in Tennessee.</li> <li>The Tennessee population is 73.1% white. According to the most recent Census of Agriculture, 97% of farmers and ranchers (producers) in Tennessee are white and occupy 98% of all farmland.<sup>16</sup></li> <li>Black producers represent 1% and occupy 1% of farmland.</li> <li>Hispanic producers represent 1% and occupy &lt;1% of farmland.</li> <li>Asian producers represent &lt;1% and occupy &lt;1% of farmland.</li> <li>Indigenous producers represent &lt;1% and occupy &lt;1% of farmland.</li> <li>Indigenous producers represent &lt;1% and occupy &lt;1% of farmland.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Bread for the World is committed to eradicating food insecurity by building a more sustainable food system in Tennessee.</li> <li>Reducing unnecessary food waste is one way to build a more sustainable food system.</li> <li>In 2019, 1.37 million tons<sup>17</sup> of surplus food in Tennessee went to waste instead of reaching those who needed it, an amount equal to: <ul> <li>2.2 billion meals unsold or uneaten.<sup>18</sup></li> <li>$8.74 billion in lost sales.<sup>19</sup></li> <li>Annual CO2 emissions produced by 1,314,362 gasoline-powered cars.<sup>20</sup>,<sup>21</sup></li> </ul> </li> </ul>
